Matthew Jerlecki has worked at Lippert for the past two years focused on creating engaging learning experiences and environments for Lippert's over fifteen thousand team members.

These initiatives include developing a weekly High School Equivalency Program that will run year-round to allow Lippert Team Members to continually work towards their diploma. Partnering with Ivy Tech Community College we are offering technical skills courses with SACA accreditation, SHRM certification for our Human Resources Department, Quality Assurance with ASQM and Six Sigma certifications, Supply Chain with CSCMP certifications, Principles of Management, CAD Solidworks, and NIMS CNC courses.

Prior to working at Lippert Jerlecki served as Director of Technology at Concord Community Schools, Digital Learning Specialist, and an Engineering and Design Instructor. Also, in "prior life" he owned and operated Automatic & Self-Serve Car Washes and a commercial cleaning company.

He holds a master's degree in technology education from Ball State University and a Teacher's License through Indiana University.
